Focus

This week's focus is on three-syllable words that end with –ive.

Helpful Hint

Notice that all the words on this list have three syllables and end with –ive. This suffix changes a verb to an adjective. For example, relate becomes relative, and attract becomes attractive. The silent e at the end of each word does not make the i syllable long. Instead, it keeps the v company, since English words never end with the letter v.

Spelling word practice

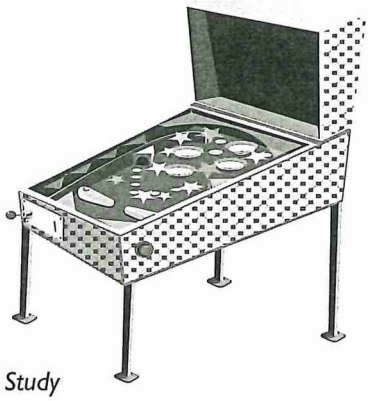

In the space provided write each of your 20 spelling words 5 times, focus on writing legibly and spelling correctly.
