Helpful Hint

Notice that each word on this list has a soft g sound in one of its syllables. Soft g is always followed by e, i, or y. Many words are derived from the Latin roots leg and lig, which can mean law or select. The g in these roots can have a hard or soft pronunciation, depending on which letter comes next (negligent, legislature, elegant, delegate).

Great Literature: The Call of the Wild

The Call of the Wild is a novel by Jack London. The book is about Buck, a dog that endures many hardships in his effort to survive in the wilds of Alaska.

But especially he loved to run in the dim twilight of the summer midnights, listening to the subdued and sleepy murmurs of the forest, reading signs and sounds as a man may read a book, and seeking for the mysterious something that called—called, waking or sleeping, at all times, for him to come.

Directions: Copy the excerpt from The Call of the Wild using proper cursive writing form. If you need more paper, use a copy of the practice paper.
